18. 다음 빈칸에 들어갈 말로 적절한 것은?

Imagine you are climbing a rock wall in the mountains. You are halfway up the wall, hundreds of feet above the valley floor. You have just come to a small ledge. You know you would be vulnerable if the wind picked up, but on that ledge you have at least some sense of security. The problem is that to keep moving up, you have to abandon the security and reach for another hold. Letting go of that sense of security is the challenge, whether you are rock climbing or taking a new path in life. You have to _____ your hold on the old and grab on to the new.

- ① hold                                      ② gather
- ③ restraint                                ④ collect
- ⑤ release

19. 다음 글의 밑줄 친 부분 중, 어법상 틀린 것은?

“I can’t believe we made -how much did we make?” cried Megan once they got back to her house. “One hundred and four dollars each. Each!” shouted Jessie. She couldn’t stop ①to hope from one foot to the other. “I ②have never seen so much money in my life!” Jessie was already ③running numbers in her head. ④ Subtracting the eighty dollars that she and Megan had spent on lemonade and cups, each girl had made a profit of sixty-four dollars. If they doubled the number of their franchises from thirteen to twentysix, they could each make one hundred and twentyeight dollars in one day! Jessie pulled out a piece of paper and ⑤scribbled down a graph. The sky was the limit.

20. 다음 글의 밑줄 친 부분 중, 문맥상 낱말의 쓰임이 적절하지 않은 것은?

Popular prejudice offers a black-and-white picture of the brain versus body paradigm. We are often told that exercise develops the body while reading, writing, and thinking are meant to ①develop the brain. This is a ②flawed perception. While mental activities such as reading, writing, solving mathematical problems, doing crosswords or participating in seminars are primarily ③concerned with the brain, they are also ④irrelevant to the body and have an impact on it. The emotions and sensory reactions created by these activities have an ⑤influence, however subtle, through chemical signals, on the body and its health.

21. 다음 글의 밑줄 친 부분 중, 어법상 틀린 것은?

Drinking water can contribute to good health, and schools are in a unique position to promote healthy dietary behaviors, ①including drinking sufficient water. More than 95% of children and adolescents are ②enrolled in schools, and students typically spend at least 6 hours at school each day. Ensuring that students have access to safe, free drinking water throughout the school environment ③ gives them a healthy substitute for sugars-sweetened beverages. ④ Access to clean and free water helps to increase students' overall water consumption, maintain hydration, and reduce unhealthy calories intake. Adequate hydration may improve cognitive function among children and adolescents, ⑤ what is important for learning.

22. 다음 빈칸에 들어갈 말로 적절한 것은?

People are strongly influenced by _____ factors—the ones that speak to our unconscious desires and motivations. For example, in a study, subjects were given three different boxes of detergent and asked to try them all out, then report on which they liked best and why. One box was yellow, another blue, and the third was blue with splashes of yellow. The subjects overwhelmingly favored the detergent in the box with mixed colors. Their comments included much about the relative merits of the detergents, but none mentioned the box. Why should they? A pretty box doesn't make the detergent work better. But in reality, it was just the box that differed—the detergents inside were all identical.

- ① consistent                      ② good-looking
- ③ charming                        ④ important
- ⑤ irrelevant

23. 다음 빈칸에 들어갈 말로 적절한 것은?

For many young people, peers are of significant importance and can be the primary source of the norms with which they strive to conform. Peer pressure among them can affect how they drive a vehicle. Young drivers experience higher peer pressure than older drivers to commit traffic violations such as speeding, driving under the influence of alcohol and dangerous overtaking. Direct peer pressure may be exerted on a young driver's behavior through the influence of a passenger. Young drivers, both male and female, drive faster and with a shorter following distance at road junctions if _____ in the car.

- ① there are no friends
- ② they are in any urgent situation
- ③ they have young passengers
- ④ they have no one to see
- ⑤ they are in a competition
